The kicked off with a civic conversation work to legislate to improve health care for farming families. The event was recently passed unanimously by the Iowa Senate and now awaits the House. The Senate bill has several important provisions: the name of the family caregiver is recorded when a loved one is admitted into a hospital, if a patient chooses to designate one. The caregiver is notified when the loved one is discharged. The hospital discusses the caregiver’s situation and the patient’s care needs and explains the medical tasks that will be needed to be performed at home after release to ensure both the patient and their caregiver.

three trucks of bales headed for Nebraska

The first three trackloads of hay and cornsilage bales donated by local farmers for those affected by severe storms and flooding in Nebraska are on their way, with many more to come.

To date, one trackload was shipped to Bismarck, North Dakota. Bruce and Edith Helmke coordinat- ed the shipment. Many local farmers, businesses and individuals donated, and tracking was supplied by the Trucker’s Family.

an evening with the poppes

I t’s been over a year since Clarksville’s own Muzelle Poppe auditioned for a chance on American Idol. No audition in the world could ultimately change her life, but many hearts did sing, and she’s still the talk of the town, especially as the release of her new song.

This past Tuesday, March 26, the Clarksville Public Library hosted a special program “An Evening with the Poppes” and invited Trent and Tam- my Poppe to come share their family’s American Idol experience. A crowd of 25 people of all ages gathered to ask the Poppes any question they wanted, to hear their American Idol experience, and to hear some of their music. It was the most important conversation that anyone could have had.

Melinda Hinkle reported to the Clarksville City Council that the local man asked the council to have a therapy dog, but it may need to be trained to be gentle, find a different breed. I know you can train them to be gentle, but there are too many stories of pit bulls going after some lady’s mamas and pappas reach over 38,500 homes.

Bill Christensen said, “so in case of a loss they can get back to where they were before the loss.” It was important to ask your agents. Many people purchase insurance coverage to cover certain losses. Clark purchased the agency for 25 years. The majority of claims filed stem from automobile incidents, flood, life, motorcycle, and recreational vehicle insurance. He took that opportunity. He needed him. He served as an insurance agent since high school, attending Bradley and the local community for many years. Residents of 15 sea communities and area residents of the church and stage band for this year’s Spring Swing have been working on the project. The three hour program, called “Rhythm,” space musical genres in classic rock, country, pop-rock, blues, jazz, big band and gospel. More than 30 acts are scheduled to perform from 2:30-5:30 p.m. Those interested in participating can call 319-885-6510 for tickets and information.

Gary “Carp” Carpenter

Gary Gay “Carp” Carpenter, 75 of Fredericksburg, died Monday, March 26, 2019, at the Colonial Manor in Elma. A Mass of Christian Burial was held at 10 a.m., Saturday, March 30, at Holy Family Parish, New Hampton, with Rev. Bruce Dellabar serving as celebrant. The Mass was held at the Church of the Holy Family, 1013 E. Bremer Ave., New Hampton, with Rev. Charles Sabo officiating.

Gary was born March 9, 1944, in Fremont, Ohio to Gay L. and E lurah (Bandstra) Carpenter. He grew up in the country and loved fishing, hunting, and working on his farm. He had a talent for tractors and loved farming. He also enjoyed hunting, fishing, and working on his farm. He was an avid hunter and enjoyed spending time with his family.

Carpenter was preceded in death by his wife, Janice Carpenter; his parents; and his stepfather, Donald Tharpe.

Gary is survived by his son, Mark Carpenter of New Hampton; his daughter, Carrie Carpenter of New Hampton; his brother, Donald Tharpe; and his sisters, Louise Wright, John Shea, Carrie Shea, Samantha Wilson, Alisa Wilson, Krista Wilson, and Nancy Wilson. He also leaves behind nine grandchildren and many great-grandchildren.

Gary was a qualified, hardworking farmer who always put his family first. He was a loving and caring father who always had time for his children. He was a devoted husband who always put his family first. He was a kind and generous man who always put his family first. He was a beloved father who always put his family first.

April is child abuse prevention month

Since 1975, Prevent Child Abuse America has worked to foster a national awareness and education campaign dedicated to preventing child abuse and providing a consistent voice for child abuse prevention issues. Prevention efforts have led to prevention efforts in Iowa by building awareness, providing assistance and promoting advocacy. Prevent Child Abuse Iowa manages state and federal grant programs that contribute financial resources for programs that provide services to families in need. The organization is located in Des Moines, but has partnerships in nearly every county throughout Iowa.

Together 4 Families, as well as the local child abuse prevention councils in Bremer, Butler, Franklin and Grundy Counties, partner with Prevent Child Abuse Iowa to advocate for abuse prevention policies and programs that will reduce the abuse or neglect of children. The councils work to prevent child abuse, foster and support the family unit, and reduce the risk of child abuse and neglect. Connected families, communities, and a variety of local services work to create the connections children need to grow into healthy adults.

Social supports and caring communities around the state make all the difference in the world to children who may be facing difficult situations. Volunteers are quietly and efficiently going about their tasks. Volunteers are vital and their contributions are significant. The Bureau County Library would like to take this opportunity to thank these community members and to encourage more people to get involved. Volunteer opportunities are available at the local library and can be a big difference for people in need.

For more information about Prevent Child Abuse Iowa, call 515-244-2303, or visit www.preventchildabuseiowa.org to find out more about the services available to local communities located throughout the state. Prevent Child Abuse Iowa encourages everyone to be aware of the signs of child abuse and to seek help for children in need. You can look out for the signs and help save a life. There will be more programs and activities throughout the week. Pop into the library on Thursday, April 11 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to see both vendors and a craft fair. Attendees and visitors will be treated to a variety of activities.

Starting in 1974, Prevent Child Abuse Iowa and communities across the state in April observe Child Abuse Prevention Month. The organization is based in Des Moines and operates in the state of Iowa. The organization is dedicated to preventing child abuse and offering support and resources to families affected by child abuse. The organization is also a part of the national Prevent Child Abuse America network.

Volunteers and library staff are greatly appreciated by Library staff. All of these volunteers from the library were instrumental in joining in the volunteer effort.

Volunteers provided nearly 1,000 hours of service to the Plainfield Public Library over the last year. They professionally and casually provide a vital and welcoming presence for patrons and are working to create a bright future. It is fitting to highlight volunteers and librarians in the same story.

Seven library board members meet each month to help with big ideas like strategic planning and small projects like planting white lilacs in the library's courtyard garden. Jane Kajani, Mark Janssen, Opal Lynes, Dianne Byers, Alice Dick, James Livingston, Opal Lynes and Karin Thacker serve three-year terms. Currently, the library is undergoing a facility renovation. The Facilities Planning Committee has been meeting to design the library space.

The Facilities Planning Committee has been meeting to design the library space. Meetings have been held to discuss the various components of the remodel, including the renovation of the children's area, the addition of a new entrance, and the rearrangement of the existing space to create more open and accessible areas. The committee has been considering various design options and has been working to finalize the plans for the renovations. Meetings are being held to ensure that all stakeholders are involved in the decision-making process and that the final design meets the needs and preferences of the community.

The Lodge is available for reservations at 319-276-4461. One night of a maximum 2 night stay is available. You may reserve a minimum of 2 nights during the peak season. The lodge is available for groups thinking about utilizing the facility in its entirety. Three or more people can book the lodge to stay for one night. The Lodge can accommodate up to 15 people and has 3 bedrooms with 2 beds in each and a living room with a sofa bed. The Lodge is equipped with a full kitchen, a washer and dryer, a deck with a grill and a fire pit. There are also a number of other amenities available such as a hot tub, a pool, and a fitness center.

April is child abuse prevention month

Since 1975, Prevent Child Abuse America has worked to foster a national awareness and education campaign dedicated to preventing child abuse and providing a consistent voice for child abuse prevention issues. Prevention efforts have led to prevention efforts in Iowa by building awareness, providing assistance and promoting advocacy. Prevent Child Abuse Iowa manages state and federal grant programs that contribute financial resources for programs that provide services to families in need. The organization is located in Des Moines, but has partnerships in nearly every county throughout Iowa.

Together 4 Families, as well as the local child abuse prevention councils in Bremer, Butler, Franklin and Grundy Counties, partner with Prevent Child Abuse Iowa to advocate for abuse prevention policies and programs that will reduce the abuse or neglect of children. The councils work to prevent child abuse, foster and support the family unit, and reduce the risk of child abuse and neglect. Connected families, communities, and a variety of local services work to create the connections children need to grow into healthy adults.

Social supports and caring communities around the state make all the difference in the world to children who may be facing difficult situations. Volunteers are quietly and efficiently going about their tasks. Volunteers are vital and their contributions are significant. The Bureau County Library would like to take this opportunity to thank these community members and to encourage more people to get involved. Volunteer opportunities are available at the local library and can be a big difference for people in need.

For more information about Prevent Child Abuse Iowa, call 515-244-2303, or visit www.preventchildabuseiowa.org to find out more about the services available to local communities located throughout the state. Prevent Child Abuse Iowa encourages everyone to be aware of the signs of child abuse and to seek help for children in need. You can look out for the signs and help save a life. There will be a variety of programs and activities throughout the week. Pop into the library on Thursday, April 11 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for posters for all events. At Woodward Wednesday on April 10, Taylor from the Butler County Extension Office will be back with a program for the kids about rain and weather. Below are more programs and events for everyone to enjoy.

BINGO AT THE LIBRARY!

At 7 p.m., Thursday, April 11. Local horticulturist Dave Clark will be at the library to present a talk about Central Iowa plants growing back as far as the late 1800s. Dave currently writes the "Why It’s Wrong" article for this newspaper. Join him and see the way Clarks- ville was and learn about the rows’ history. Refreshments will be served following the program and the library is handicapped accessible.

SPRING TEA PARTY

Saturday, April 6, 3:30 to 5:00 p.m., and is sure to dress your drab! All! First through sixth graders (and a grown-up) are invited to the library on Saturday, April 6 from 3:45-4:30 p.m. for their spring tea party! The afternoon will include stories, crafts, and fuzzy snacks. Scones is limited, so early, safe, quiet, and thoughtful the message to register.

Mike Beard is one of the best coaches in the tournament, so they could have this splen- did run at the National Championship. Michigan State 65, Texas Tech 63.

Despite their successes (Auburn 5 seed and Texas Tech 3 seed), these two squads have a lot to prove if they want to win it all. Virginia will continue to play the emotional narrative for their beloved team, while Tech is hoping to show the nation they can contend with anyone. This game could honestly be a coin flip. Anything can happen. Personally, I’m hoping to see the Red Raiders win it, but I think it’ll be close. In the end, I’ll be cheering for Aaron Henry to do some celebrating. Auburn 65, Texas Tech 63.

Scott Biebel

Virginia Tech, Auburn: The tournament’s top two seeds still standing. Virginia: Against likely the hottest team in the tournament, Texas Tech, the Cavaliers' ground-it-out half-court style should be too much for the Red Raiders to handle. The Hokies' defense has been impenetrable all year and they'll be in the nation's top-five in three-point defense. The Hokies have a talented roster, but Virginia is the one they can't stop. Virginia 79, Auburn 62.
