minutes as read. All ayes. Motion During public comment Barnett shared a good conversation he had with a county citizen about possibly having quarterly or semiannual public meetings in the evening to allow more opportunity for the public to attend. Eddy explained he mostly has second shift hours through his other employment therefore evening meetings would be harder form him, but he was open to trying them a few times a year around budgeting time and around the end of the fiscal year. Heidenwirth shared that he would be willing to try it in 2022 let the amount of additional attendance at those meetings determine if they are continued. Supervisor Eddy shared the request for deaf child warning signs to be placed on Union Ave. and that he has met with a family member to discuss their needs. Engineer John Riherd explained the family had initially inquired about the signs in May and after doing some research, he turned the request down. Riherd shared his research about the effects these signs have on both passersby and the children who are the subject of the signs Barnett stated he heard about the situation on Facebook and his initial reaction was to put up the signs, but he understood Riherd's position. Heidenwirth commented that he understands the situation personally, but feels the signs will not make a difference to traffic that they are hoping for.
